THE EDITION OF SHIPWRECKS AND DISASTERS AT SEA—The eighth edition of this popular work has just issued from the press of S. N. DICKINSON, 52 Washington street, where it may be had in large or small quantities. This volume of 432 pages, royal 12mo, contains 100 spirited engravings, 30 to 40 of which are large, and at once convey to the mind the perils and dangers of the wave-tossed mariner while on the reging sea, or the more fearful picture of speedy destruction as his gallant vessel drives fullously upon some rock bound coast and horrid chiffs and yawning caverns. The work has received many favorable notices from the editorial fraternity, and is considered as surpassing any work of the kind ever before got up in this country, or in Europe. Independent of the merits of the work itself, the price, no doubt, has contributed greatly to its success, for the publisher can assert, without fear of contradiction, that it is the cheapest book ever published. Dealers in town and country are invited to call on the publisher, as they will be supplied on the most liberal terms. FOR SALE OR TO LET.

POETRY.

VAIN BOASTING. FROM THE SACRED CLASSICS. Or he be fair, that withers at a blast?

Or he be strong, that airy breath can cast?

Can he be wise, that knows not how to live?

Or he be rich, that nothing hath to give?

Can he be young, that's feeble weak, and wan?

So fair, strong, wise—so rich, so young is man.

So fair is man, that death (a parting blast)

Blasts his fair flow'r, and makes him earth at last;

So strong is man, that with a gasping breath

He totters, and bequeaths his strength to death,

So wise is man, that if with death he strive.

His wisdom cannot teach him flow to live,

So rich is man, that (all his debts being paid)

His wealth's the winding sheet wherein he's laid;

So young is man, that (broke with ca e and sorrow)

He's old enough to-day to die to-morrow.

Why bragg'st thou then, thou worm of five-foot long?

Thou art neither tair, nor strong, nor wise, nor rich, not Can he be fair, that withers at a blast? Thou art neither fair, nor strong, nor wise, nor rich, nor young.

THINGS IN CUBA.

The most beautiful place in or near Havana is The Bishop's Garden, situated about three miles from the city, and containing several acres. This was laid out and finished with great taste and expense by the late Bishop of Havana, a man who was very much beloved by his people, and whose exertions for the good of mankind were strong and unremitting. The garden which bears his title, was his favorite place of residence.

It is now the property of a Spanish nobleman who grants free access to the public, but seldom occupies the mansion upon the premises. Rare trees shade the long and winding walks which beautiful flowers decorate. A considerable stream runs through the grounds, crossed at several points by light bridges thrown gracefully over. There are many seats where one may rest sheltered from the sunperhaps within hearing of the music of sweet-singing birds, confined in two extensive aviaries. In one part of the garden is a small fish-pond, well stocked with gold and silver fishes, upon whose waters the graceful swan floats proudly. In another part you may see a great, black bear, walking restlessly upon the top of the cage to which he is chained, a wonder to the children of this sunny clime. At a little distance, an alligator, imprisoned in a tank of water, lies idly, except when one of the negroes stirs him up for the edification of visitors, and the chance of getting a medio. Many persons, especially strangers, visit this

The citiz as prefer The New Paseo, or Governor's Garden, a fine promenade which the Governor has been engaged in making for two or three years, at the expense of Government. It is about two miles from the city, with which it is connected by a noble avenue, the only one in the environs of Havana that can be called tolerable. Flowers, shrubbery, trees and curious jets d'eau abound throughout the extensive grounds, and are kept in perfect order by DEAL ESTATE IN ROXBURY.—For saie, a pleasantly situated lot of Land, bounded as fellows:—beginning at a point 100 feet southerly from Roxbury Square, near the Rev Mr Putnam's meeting housed—from thence southerly by land of Proprietors of the Norfolk House, 24 feet to land Norfolk street—then northerly by Highland street 163 feet to Highland street—then northerly by Highland street 245 feet to land of Field and Gould—then easterly by said land 153 feet to the point of Leginning—containing in all 38,418 square feet. It is estimated that there is sufficient land for three handsome house lots, commanding a fine prospect of the purchase money rounding country. Three quarters of the purchase money three years. THORITY T. SAWYER has taken a count.

Thanksgining .- For two of three years past Thanksgiving has been appointed on the first Thursday of December; thereby seeming to endeavor to establish the first Thursday of December, by general custom, as the regular day of Thanksgiving. Most people are of opinion that the last Thursday of November would be more convenient and eligible on many accounts. It is our object, however, to suggest the propriety of establishing a particular day of the year, as the regular thanksgiving, by an act of the Legislature. There is something rather ridiculous in having an annual proclamation of a holiday. If it be considered expedient to continue this truly New England Anniversary, (and we know of no objection against it, and many very happy motives for continuing it) let the Legislature of the State act upon the subject, and establish it upon a particular day of the year. It would be likewise highly convenient for people residing out of the State, or at a distance, who calculate on visiting their friends on this Holiday, to know without waiting for the Governor's proclamation, at what time this Anniversary will be kept. We think it would add greatly to the animation of the same day. Let our Legislature act upon this question, at their next session, and we have no doubt that the Legistures of the other New England States would soon follow

The vaent, vapour and humbug so plentifully strewed over the surface of theatrical placards, is thus humorously hit off in a London paper, and bearing with no greater weight on that metropolis than on others which we wo: of.

"The landlord is sole lessee; that he is responsible for the management of this beautiful and splendid establishment; and that he has procured an unrivalled association of the most spirited characters, whose inspiring influence will be constantly at the command of a generous and ence will be constantly at the command of a generous and enlightened public." It then states that amongst the drumatis personæ are included "the following first rate performers : Messrs Champagneo, Borgundio, Clareto, &c. &c.; Signors Oporto, Sherryano, Madeiro, assisted by Monsieur Brandy de Cognac, Madame Rummania, Made-moiselle Jenny Jacko; Mon. The funniest scene imaginable occurred last eveing during the performance of Manfred, on the occasion of Gov. Marcy's visit to the Park Theatre. Just at a period when the chorus of spirits were chanting a wild hobgoblin air and imparting to its general effect all the horrors of grimmace and attitude, enter the Governor and suite. "Three cheers," shouted a man in the pit. "Hurrah! hurra! hurra! Encore. Hurra! hurra! The house was in an uproar of applause, while the band had deserted the witches and their hellish chant for patriotic strains. The transition was most ludicrous and its effect entirely indescribable; the Governor bowed and scraped, and his attendants ooked Alexanders, while the poor witches after wandering here and there about the stage, a lump of confusion, had retired to their native crage and caverus to the tunes of Hail Columbia and Yankee Doodle.-N. WHIG LIBELS AND SLANDERS.

The Boston Advocate, some days since, contained a complete refutation of the calumnies and misrepresentations heaped on Mr Alexander H. Everett, by the whigs of No. 9. In regard to the personal affair between Mr Everett and Mr Bowen, the latter insulted Mr Everett by sending to his house a pamphlet containing a direct falsehood, representing Mr E. as the author of language he never used in relation to Antimasonry. When they met, continues the Advocate, Mr Everett told him it was false. Whereupon Mr Bowen called him a puppy, and Mr Everett boxed his ears with the flat of his hand, twice. The Ed. of the Advocate then states that very staid, sober and religious men in No 9, have said that they would not have voted for Mr Everett, if he had not resented such as insult. Mr Bowen and his friends have caused a misrepresentation of the affair to appear in the whig papers, and it was due to Mr E, to authorize a correct account. Mr Bowen and his associates knew that Mr Everett did not write that part of the National Republican Address of 1833, which denounces Antimasonry; and that at the election in the fall of 1833, Mr Everett authorized a public disclaimer of that portion of the address which Mr Bowen now attributes to him. Knowing all this, Mr S. G. Goodrich, D. A. Simmors, and Charles Bowen publish a pamphlet, in which they insert, as a portion of Mr Everett's writings, the offensive part of the Addre s of 1833, which they knew he did not write. Mr Bowen has since attempted to prove that he did not charge the authorship of the offensive extract upon Mr Everett. Yet Mr Bowen and his co-certifiers, over their own signatures, declare that they pledge themselves to substantiate the exact accuracy of the extracts from Mr Everett's writings made in their pamphlet, in which these misrepresentations appeared. They make the deliberate ascertion, that the extract on Antimasonry is from Mr Everett's writings, and written by him, and this they promise to prove when called upon. It is plain, therefore, that Mr Bowen and his men have attempted to impose upon the people of No 9, as the language and writings of Mr Everett, what they knew he The Advocate adds further, that Mr Bowen, a Boston publisher, like Mr Goodrich, and Mr Simmons a Boston lawyer, who keeps his office in the city and lodges in Roxbury, are indignant against Mr Everett for presuming to take up his residence in Newton, and sneer at him because he lives in a hired house!

Mr Goodrich is involved in a contradiction similar to that of Mr Bowen. Mr Goodrich had an interview with Mr Onion, who is Postmaster at Medfield, and endeavored to enlist his influence against Mr Everett in the NOTICE.—TIMOTHY T. SAWYER, has taken a councille take up their melancholy march to prison for the democratic Convention. "I met Mr O. at the inn, and in a conversation purely accidental, mentioned, among other things, that I had heard that a friend of Mr Everett had applied to the whigs of Norfolk, some years since, to know if Mr Everet could be elected to Congress in that district. At the request of Mr O I referred him to the source from which obtained the information. Though I had no reason th n, and have none now, to doubt the accuracy of the statement. I did not affirm it as of my own knowledge, nor did I repeat it, officiously or with the slightest design or expectation of its being reported to others. As the matter, however, has now been published, every individual who is anxious to know the fact has the means of satisfying himself on the subject."

As an off-et to this account the Advocate publishes a letter from Mr Onion, in which the latter says that on the morning of the day of holding the whig Convention at Medway, "I accidentally met Mr Goodrich at the hotel in this town, (Medfield) who spoke with me on commonplace affairs, and soon introduced political subjects, and in that connection had something to say about A. H. Everett." After the Convention at Medway, at which Mr Goodrich had expresesd a hope that he should see Mr Onion, Mr G. and Mr O. met in the piazza in front of the Jubilee, were it to occur throughout New England on the house, in the presence of half a dozen gentlemen of unimpeachable veracity. Mr Onion then adds-

"After giving a statement of the proceedings at Medway, Mr Good ich commenced in an earnest manner a history of Mr Everett's political course, and in substance said, 'that he had been used by the whigs in Boston as long as they wanted him, that he was unworthy the confidence of any party, and being entirely neglected by his old friends there, a meeting of his new friends was held for the purpose of finding some place in one of the other dis-tricts where he could be elected to office, and at that meeting it was concluded he should remove within the district, (No. 9,) that he did come and board at the Nor olk House, and while there or about that time made propositions to the whog party for their support, which were treated with contempt, and then he went over to the Antimasons and democrats with a view of being supported by them for Congress, &c.' I then said if those statements were true he ought not to be supported."

Mr Onion then says that Mr Goodrich well knows that his statement was made without any reservation or intimation of its being confidential, and it was perfectly understood that he (Mr Onion) shou'd make it known to the Convention to be assembled on the 28th inst. and Mr G. gave his permission for Mr Onion to do so. Mr Goodrich also told Mr Onion that " D. A. Simmons, Esq. was knowing to all the facts of Mr Everett's propositions to the whigs, and said that Mr S. would confirm his statement, and if more evidence was desired he would give the names of eight or ten others who would verify the same fact." Here follows a certificate signed by Samuel Johnson, Thomas Dowling and Charles Hamant, certifying that they were present and heard the conversation, named in the foregoing statement, between Messrs. Goodrich and Onion. Mr Onion addressed a note to Mr Simmons to substantiate Mr Goodrich's statement, but has received no reply. Mr Simmons was undoubtedly connected in the plot, (which was to sow discord between the two Conventions and prevent Mr Everett's election;) otherwise he would have replied to Mr Onion's note. The Advocate thus leaves " Mr Goodrich suspended before the people of No. 9, with his name to a very improbable story on the one side, and the names of four substantial citizens, plumply contradicting him, on the other."

In the Boston Advocate of Oct. 21, appears a letter to the editor from Mr Goodrich, in which he encloses a certificate signed by Samuel Jackson and E. Harrington, of Roxbury, testifying that Mr Goodrich had stated correctly the sub-tance of his conversation with Mr Onion respecting A. H. Everett; that Mr Onion's account is incorrect, and that the three individuals who testify in favor of Mr Onion's account of this conversation were not present during the whole of it. The two certificates in favor of Mr Goodrich are gentlemen of high respectability, and the Advocate pursues a more honorable course than that pursued by the majority of whig papers, in publishing the whole account. The Editor of the Advocate, however, very just'y con-i 'ers this attempt of Mr Goodrich to exonerate himself from colpability as a failure. Four citizens, says the Advocate, Messrs. Onion, Johnson, Dowling and Hamant, of unimpeachable veracity, certify positively to a conversation they heard from Mr Goodrich on the twenty-first of September. Messrs. Saml. Jackson and E. Harrington, two citizens of Roxbury, certify that they did not hear this conversation on the twentieth of September, which is very likely, as the Advocate remarks, since they were two separate conversations. Again, the evidence of Mr Goodrich's witnesses is merely negative; they simply state that they did not hear the offensive remarks of Mr Goodrich. which is no proof that they were not uttered-especially when four veracious citizens give their positive testimony that they heard them. The negative witnesses say "that Mr Goodrich represented Mr Everett's friend as having made application to some WHIGS in Roxbury, some years since." This is improbable, because some years since, there were no whigs in Roxbury. This appears to be an after-thought on the part of Mr Goodrich. But, supposing the story to be true, that while Mr Everett was acting as a national republican, a friend of Mr Everett's, without his knowledge, made application in his behalf to some whigs in Roxbury, what had Mr Everett to do with it, and what had it to do with his being a candidate for Congress ? The Advocate then remarks :--

"We saw one young man at Medfield, who confirmed Mr Onion's statement, and whose name is not to the certificate. We understand there were others who state the same facts. Mr Goodrich has got on a wrong track .-His malignity toward Mr Everett will recoil upon him-

In the Advocate of the 22d Oct., Mr Goodrich publishes another note to the editor, in which he states that there was but one conversation between him and Mr Onion on this subject, which took place on the 20th, and that he was absent from Medfield on the 21st, and remarks, that the testimony of his avouchers is, therefore, not negative, but positive.

The Advocate remarks, that the certificate of Messrs Jackson and Harrington refers to but one conversation between Messrs Goodrich and Onion. Mr Onion, in his statement, refers to two conversations at Medfield-one, while Mr Goodrich was going up to Medway, and the other when returning. Mr Onion, in his letter to Mr Simmons of Sept. 22d, describes the conversation which took place yesterday (the 21st). The inference, thereand against him, may have certified to different conversations. Still, notwithstanding this discrepancy of dates, the testimony of Mr Goodrich's witnesses is but negative, and we cannot perceive that Mr Goodrich is at all relieved from his dilemma.

EXPERIENCE aersus THEORY.

R. W. EVANS' CAMOMILE PILLS, having long acquired an exalted reputation in private practice by an invarible efficacy which could only have resulted from their exalted worth, he is confident that he has only to get them exalted worth, he is confident that he has only to get them exalted worth, he is confident that he has only to get them exalted worth, he is confident that reputation universal. Unlike the clamorals host of quack medicines with which the columns of the public press are crowded, these Camomile Pills, have the testimony of the whole nedical profession in their favor, and not a single case of ill consequences or inefficacy to be alledged against them. Their very name candidly acknowledges what they are composed of—and they honestly promise no more than they faithfully perform. They are composed of a beautiful extract of the Camomile flowers, in which all the tonic and restorative principles of that inestimable plant is preserved; and its irritating principle is neutralised by an alkeline infusion—they, therefore, necessarily afford immediate relief, in all cases of dyspepsia, or other derangements of the digestive organs. In sick headaches, nervous debility spasmodic affections, prostration of muscular and vital energy, and consequent loss of case, comfort, and ultimutely of life itself they restore health in the most impaired and hopeless constitutions, not by heing inken in exce sive quantities, for the necessity of their use continually decreases, as of course it ought to do, if they are good for anything—by their direct adaptation to the powers of the human stomach. There is one disto do, if they are good for anything- by their direct adaptation to the powers of the human stomach. There is one distion to the powers of the human stomach. There is one disease, however, which is unhappily but too prevalent in which their ability will perhaps become pre emine t, and that is in the disease which is produced by violent drastic purges, taken in perincious quantities, and which may be termed that Quack Mortent? disease. The excessive debility, both of body and mind, produced by this destructive practice, can only be relieved by a ionic, and such as the Camomile preparation contains. Dr W. Evans surphes an antidote for a host of public poisons, and a remedy for all those diseases which he professes to cure. A single trial will grove the vast superiority of a course of practice which is based upon science, experisone, common sense and honesty.

Evans? Camemite Pills, which she has done to her comfort of mind and restoration of health. MRS. M BEAUMONT.

TO THE AFFLICTED.—For the benefit of the public, and in gratified to Dr W. Evans, I consider it a duty I owe, to make known the great good I have derived from EVANS' CAMO (ILE PILLS. Daving been five years afflicted with dyspepsia of the worst kind. I made application to numerous sources without benefit, but by the use of three bottles of Evans? Camomite Pills, and three boxes of Evans's Aperient Pills I have found signal relief, fully to my satisfaction, and I am more healthy than I have been for many years. The symptoms (which were poins in the chest, weaknesses in the whole trame, heart-burn, flatutency, acidity, and headache) are ail removed. I de over this testimony over to Dr Evans, for his and the public benefit, for it to be made known. I hereby sign my name and address.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Having been made acquainted with the medical qualities and with essed the effects of "Dr Phelps' Arcanum," I feel much confidence in saying it is a preparation of medicine greatly superior to any thing of the kind, in curing those chronic discases for which it is intended, and recommend it to invalids in preference to any other saticle whatever

SAMUEL L. MITCHELL, M. D.

New York, March 25, 1830.

My knowledge of the properties and operation of the "Arcaum of Dr Phelps," justify me in saying that it is far superior o any depurative syrup with which I am acquainted. In the most obstinate and ambiguous deseases, it displays effects peculiarly surprising. In those affections that resist the skill of the physician, such as Rheumavism, Syphilis, Scrofula, Ulcerations, and Diseases of the Skin, &c., I would recommend it as worthy of g eat confidence.

For the last few years I have suffered excessively by a Billious Mercurial Disease, which has rendered me frequently unfil for duty, and confined me as often to my berth. My diease was the sequela of bid treatment, while in the more tropical latitudes, and laboring under an acute inflamation of the liver, and other Billiary organs. Prior and pubsequently to our arrival in this port, I have had recourse to a great variety of prescriptions, medicines and nostriums—among which were a number of bottles of Swaim's Panacec, Potter's Catholicon, the Rob of Laffecteur, &c., but without any benefit—Dr Phelps being at that time a student of medicine in the University of Pennsylvania, advised me to make use of a newly discovered medicine, the Arcanum, which he believed would succeed in relieving me, is con-equence of the very signal effects himself and others had observed in its operation in various gland dat dise ses, that were otherwise considered incurable. I commenced its use accordingly, and it affords me pleasure to state, that for several months past, not a vestige of the original or accondary disease, has been discoverable. I prize the medicine above all, offers with which I have ever been acquainted it is both pleasant and I believe certain it its effects, as a remidy in a variety of chronic diseases, incident to tropical and other climates.

Gent.—I cannotrefrain from expre-sing my gratitude to you notfering me a bottle of dr Phelies' Arcanum, as an experiment in my case of Rheumatism. I have been dreadfully af dicted for upwards of twelve months and for the last four or five months have scarcely been able to walk. I have used a dozen bottles of Swaim's Panacca, and found very little benefit from it. After taking the bottle of Arcanum, I found such a change in my whole system, that I was induced to try another, and io my surprise, the pains in my legs all disappeaced, and the Ulcers in one have completely healed up, and I can walk mearly as well as ever. I shall continue to take two bottles more, and firmly believe it will make a complete cure of my dispasse.

I remain, gentlemen, yours very respectfully, JNO. MORRALL Measrs Lay & Hendrickson, Druggists, Savannah, (Geo.)

Extract of a letter from Dr Jones, a highly respectable physician, dated Baton Rogue. Louisiana, Dec. 28, 1833.—
The Arcanum had two powerful competitors, Swaim's Panacea, and Potter's Catholicon, which have been for years in circulation in this place. As far as I have had an opportunity of ascertaining its virtues, I believe the Arcanum to be superior to any article of the kind, yet offered to the public. I prescribed it in a case of Irritable Ulcer of three years standing, situated on the Malleolus Extrenus—the individual thus afflicted was much emaciated and debilitated,—after one week's attendance, I put him upon the Arcanum, following the directions three buttles nearly effected a cure of the ulcer and bodi tions three bottles nearly effected a cure of the ulcer and bodt

I prescribed it in several Mercurial and Syphilitic Affec-tions, where it proved salutary. I am at this time trying the Arcanum on an individual, who has been laboring under the cerous affections of one of his legs, for fifteen years,—he has taken I bottle only, and it has produced that effect, he is sau-guine in the belief, it will effect a permanent cure.
